

1. Facebook has notified that during the following months it will eliminate all groups of product analysis, reviews, amazon. They have already deleted many.
2. Amazon has closed many buyer accounts due to product reviews.
3. Many of the deleted profiles have been leaked from Facebook to Amazon through these groups.

Facebook is selling to Amazon the information of the profiles of the users and sellers that do this type of practices. Including chat and private messages.

Due to this problem, a group of users have decided to create a unique and exclusive web page to be able to analyze and review products, with the same simplicity as on Facebook, but with total security.

We think that this activity is totally legal. Amazon does it with their Vine service, they pay for the reviews themselves. Magazines do it, several companies, and many influencers and blogs also practice it without censorship.

Why can not we do this activity freely?

The screenshot shows the Review4bits website interface. On the left is a dark navigation menu with options: Start, Plank deals, Blog reviews, Members, Legal use, FAQ, and Contact. The main content area features a 'Plank deals' header, a 'What's new, R4b?' section with a text input and image/video links, and a featured product review for a smartwatch. The review includes a user profile, a post date ('18 days ago'), and a description: 'Bracelet activity with 14 sport modes After review by PayPal refund if interested pm'. The product image shows a black smartwatch with a digital display. Below the image are two columns of features: 'Main Features' (Heart Rate Monitor, Multi-Sports Mode, Activity Tracking, Auto sleep tracking, Connected mobile GPS tracking) and 'Additional Features' (Call Alert, SMS Alert, Weather Forecast, Secondary Alert, Alarm Alert, Camera Capture). A central callout highlights 'Impermeable IP68'. On the right side, there is a 'SELECT LANGUAGE' dropdown set to 'English', a 'WHO IS ONLINE' section with a profile picture, and a 'NEWSLETTER' sign-up form with fields for 'Email Address *' and 'birthday *' (MM/DD), and a 'subscribe' button.

On the publications wall the Sellers and the Buyers will be able to make themselves known, as easy as they did on Facebook, but with all our security.

Through private messages and chat users can talk to each other, reach a cooperation agreement and resolve any incident of the process.
